

THE MARKETS.

TOTAL RECEIPTS TO-DAY.

	New York, December 5, 1893.
Ashes, pks.,	25
Beans, bush,	163
Cotton, bales,	9,121
Copper, bales,	1,350
Copper, chips,	1,150
Copper, cans,	1,280
Copper, ingots,	13,720
Eggs, cases,	2,313
Inkwell, bush,	8,855
D.W. soap, bush,	25
Cornmeal, bush,	750
Cornmeal, bush,	1,270
Cornmeal, bush,	1,320
Wheat, bush,	174,365
Corn, prime,	11,160
Cheese, pks.,	3,830
Malt, bush,	5,250
Bacon,	24,375
Hats, men's,	1,418
Straw, bags,	125
Greas, sets, bags,	3,085
Hops, bush,	678

EXPORTS TO-DAY.

	Wheat, bush.	Bacon, per cwt.	Pork, bush.	Beef, bush.	Corn, bush.	Flour, sacks.	Hay, straw,	Oats, bush.	Wheat, bush.	Cottonseed oil, gals.
Wheat, bush.	61,560	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Corn, bush.	20,000	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Flour, bush.	10,706	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Hay, straw,	10,000	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Oats, bush.	15,000	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Wheat, bush.	15,768	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Cottonseed oil, gals.	141,401	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100

CASH QUOTATIONS.

	Tobacco, prime, West.	29
Iron, No. 1, founders,	14,50
Slate, grey, found.	11,50
Copper, blue, ingot,	10,50
Coffee, No. 7,	21
Sugar, refined, white,	34
Lead,	3,30
Tin, sheet, medium,	20
Corn, meal, medium,	50
Lead, 100 lbs.	2,700
Bacon, bush,	8,565
Cottonseed oil, gals.	285,500

HAY AND STRAW.

Prices are held unchanged, but trade continues very quiet.

Hay, prime, to choice, per 100 lbs., $1.00 to $1.10.

Hay, shipping, per 100 lbs., $1.00 to $1.10.

Straw, short, per 100 lbs., $0.80 to $0.90.

Straw, large, tan, 14½ to 15½ lbs., $1.00 to $1.10.

Straw, green, bush, 17 lbs., $1.00 to $1.10.

Molasses, prime hay, 35 lbs., $1.00 to $1.10.

POULTRY.

Wide fluctuations have marked the course of the poultry market during the week. Stock has so far been held by the importers to a large extent, and the market for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

LIVE POULTRY.

Stock quotes are as follows: Chickens, prime, per pair, $1.00 to $1.10; turkeys, No. 1, prime, per pair, $2.00 to $2.10; turkeys, No. 2, prime, $1.80 to $1.90; turkeys, No. 3, prime, $1.70 to $1.80; turkeys, No. 4, prime, $1.60 to $1.70; turkeys, No. 5, prime, $1.50 to $1.60; turkeys, No. 6, prime, $1.40 to $1.50; turkeys, No. 7, prime, $1.30 to $1.40; turkeys, No. 8, prime, $1.20 to $1.30; turkeys, No. 9, prime, $1.10 to $1.20; turkeys, No. 10, prime, $1.00 to $1.10; turkeys, No. 11, prime, $0.90 to $1.00; turkeys, No. 12, prime, $0.80 to $0.90; turkeys, No. 13, prime, $0.70 to $0.80; turkeys, No. 14, prime, $0.60 to $0.70; turkeys, No. 15, prime, $0.50 to $0.60; turkeys, No. 16, prime, $0.40 to $0.50; turkeys, No. 17, prime, $0.30 to $0.40; turkeys, No. 18, prime, $0.20 to $0.30; turkeys, No. 19, prime, $0.10 to $0.20; turkeys, No. 20, prime, $0.05 to $0.10; turkeys, No. 21, prime, $0.00 to $0.05.

DRESSED POULTRY-ICE-PACKED.

Turkeys, young, as to size, per lb., $1.00 to $1.10; chickens, No. 1, prime, per lb., $1.00 to $1.10; chickens, No. 2, prime, $0.90 to $1.00; chickens, No. 3, prime, $0.80 to $0.90; chickens, No. 4, prime, $0.70 to $0.80; chickens, No. 5, prime, $0.60 to $0.70; chickens, No. 6, prime, $0.50 to $0.60; chickens, No. 7, prime, $0.40 to $0.50; chickens, No. 8, prime, $0.30 to $0.40; chickens, No. 9, prime, $0.20 to $0.30; chickens, No. 10, prime, $0.10 to $0.20; chickens, No. 11, prime, $0.05 to $0.10; chickens, No. 12, prime, $0.00 to $0.05.

DRESSED POULTRY-DRY-PACKED.

Turkeys, mutton, as to size, per lb., $1.00 to $1.10; chickens, No. 1, prime, per lb., $1.00 to $1.10; chickens, No. 2, prime, $0.90 to $1.00; chickens, No. 3, prime, $0.80 to $0.90; chickens, No. 4, prime, $0.70 to $0.80; chickens, No. 5, prime, $0.60 to $0.70; chickens, No. 6, prime, $0.50 to $0.60; chickens, No. 7, prime, $0.40 to $0.50; chickens, No. 8, prime, $0.30 to $0.40; chickens, No. 9, prime, $0.20 to $0.30; chickens, No. 10, prime, $0.10 to $0.20; chickens, No. 11, prime, $0.05 to $0.10; chickens, No. 12, prime, $0.00 to $0.05.

GAME.

Quail are in light supply and firm. Partridges and grouse have ruled a shade easier, but are closing steady. Snipe and plover scarce. Wild ducks no plenty, and prime heavy birds meet a fair demand. Rabbits in larger supply and weaker.

Quail, prime, per pair, $1.00 to $1.10; quail, fair to fancy, per pair, $0.90 to $1.00; partridge, Western, per pair, $1.00 to $1.10; grouse, dark, per pair, $1.00 to $1.10; grouse, golden, per pair, $0.90 to $1.00; grouse, English, one per pair, $1.00 to $1.10; plover, 12 ozs., per pair, $1.00 to $1.10; snipe, 12 ozs., per pair, $1.00 to $1.10; plover, 16 ozs., per pair, $0.90 to $1.00; plover, 20 ozs., per pair, $0.80 to $0.90; plover, 24 ozs., per pair, $0.70 to $0.80; plover, 30 ozs., per pair, $0.60 to $0.70; plover, 36 ozs., per pair, $0.50 to $0.60; plover, 42 ozs., per pair, $0.40 to $0.50; plover, 48 ozs., per pair, $0.30 to $0.40; plover, 54 ozs., per pair, $0.20 to $0.30; plover, 60 ozs., per pair, $0.10 to $0.20; plover, 72 ozs., per pair, $0.05 to $0.10; grouse, 16 ozs., per pair, $0.90 to $1.00; grouse, 20 ozs., per pair, $0.80 to $0.90; grouse, 24 ozs., per pair, $0.70 to $0.80; grouse, 30 ozs., per pair, $0.60 to $0.70; grouse, 36 ozs., per pair, $0.50 to $0.60; grouse, 42 ozs., per pair, $0.40 to $0.50; grouse, 48 ozs., per pair, $0.30 to $0.40; grouse, 54 ozs., per pair, $0.20 to $0.30; grouse, 60 ozs., per pair, $0.10 to $0.20; grouse, 72 ozs., per pair, $0.05 to $0.10.

LEATHER.—The market is quiet, but generally firm, though prices do not reflect any material change. The market for leather goods has maintained a steady position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PKGS. A gradual shortening of the supply of high grade table butter, caused by the arrival of stronger stocks from the West, has put our market in a little better position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PKGS. A gradual shortening of the supply of high grade table butter, caused by the arrival of stronger stocks from the West, has put our market in a little better position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PKGS. A gradual shortening of the supply of high grade table butter, caused by the arrival of stronger stocks from the West, has put our market in a little better position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PKGS. A gradual shortening of the supply of high grade table butter, caused by the arrival of stronger stocks from the West, has put our market in a little better position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PKGS. A gradual shortening of the supply of high grade table butter, caused by the arrival of stronger stocks from the West, has put our market in a little better position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PKGS. A gradual shortening of the supply of high grade table butter, caused by the arrival of stronger stocks from the West, has put our market in a little better position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PKGS. A gradual shortening of the supply of high grade table butter, caused by the arrival of stronger stocks from the West, has put our market in a little better position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PKGS. A gradual shortening of the supply of high grade table butter, caused by the arrival of stronger stocks from the West, has put our market in a little better position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PKGS. A gradual shortening of the supply of high grade table butter, caused by the arrival of stronger stocks from the West, has put our market in a little better position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PKGS. A gradual shortening of the supply of high grade table butter, caused by the arrival of stronger stocks from the West, has put our market in a little better position, especially during the past day or two. Trade has shown no material improvement, as yet. The market is continuing along very conservative lines. The leather traders for dressed poultry went into a lull before the Thanksgiving holiday, with a heavy supply carried over and an extremely dull trade since. The market for fresh turkeys is being in moderate supply, held steady, but not selling at all freely. Most of the supply is in chicken and fowl, for which there have been few sales to date, but without awakening enough demand to afford any relief. Ducks and geese also extremely dull, especially for grades below fancy. The cold weather makes live poultry especially hard to sell.

RECEIPTS FOR WEEK, 22,736 PK